Minnapous, Minn, Oct. 4.—In committee of the whole Thursday afternoon the house of deputies of the Episcopal convention threw overboard bodily the solem declaration of faith with which the proposed new constitution of the committee that the name of the treenial gathering be changed to concur in the recommendation of the committee that the name of the treinnial gathering be changed to the "general synod," and likewise rejected a proposition to recognize the title. The Protestant Episcoverwholming victory of the anti-revisionists in a matter of the declaration of faith and principles, and upon which the committee of '92 had expended much time, thought and labor, apparently demoralized its supporters, and to the motion to reject the new a feeble resistance. When the hour for adjourning arrived a warm debate was in progress on the question reinserting in the first paragraph of the constitution the clause making effective legislation originating in the focus of depaties and in which his three days. This feature of the constitution of 1759 and which is will in force, had been omitted by the revisionists, and their action was regarded by many of the delegate was a dangerous infringement of At the rate of progress Thursday debate being unlimited, it would take over four months to complete consideration of the report. The anti-revisionists abandoned their intention of endeavoring to shelve the report at the outset, and, as the document when be submitted to every diocessar convention in the United States for its action, the contest between the two elements will necessarily be renewed in the convention of 1898. Meanwhile the old constitution remains in force. The only action of interest on the Texas legislature. T. H. N. SMITH,

The first light frosts of the season were reported on the morning of the 29th, in Central and mountain counties. This is consewhat later than the average date for light frost, but the killing frosts which secured in many localities on the 39th and were general throughout the state this morning are about a week in advance.

The greater portion of the corn has already been cut, but owing to detriments to its growth earlier in the season, a considerable portion of it was late in maturing, and was therefore exposed to the unfavorable conditions which have prevailed during the greater part of the past month. In many localities correspondents report that the late fields are withering ten days too soon, and that the dry weather has prevented the ear's from filling. Generally speaking, the Central and Northern counties have felt the effects of the drouth more severely than other sections of the state. Corn was too far advanced to be damaged materially by the frosts of the past few days.

The greater portion of the tobacco crop-was cut and housed before the first fore-table was also before the first fore-table was considered to the day of the cross of the state. Corn was too damage resulted in such cases. A few correspondents state that fully on-effth of the crop is yet ufeut and was nearly destroyed by the frost. This does not represent anything like proper proportion of the trop exposed to damage from frost, as compared with the entire cropwas exceedingly small. Some reports state that the severe frosts of Monday slightly damaged tobacco already housed. Late garden vegetables and some fruits suffered very severely and in many localities and sorghum was severely damaged. The first forest completely ruined by the frost. Sweet postatosa results from in many localities and sorghum was severely damaged. The dry wester which has prevalled for some time past, probably prevented more serious results from the frost. No improvement in the condition of the con pastures is reported, and many farmers are feeding their stock and are hauling water for several miles in many instances. Reports of these extreme conditions of drouth come mainly from the Eastern and Northeastern counties.
